Why do a workshop?

Our vision workshops can help you understand the importance of your vision and how it impacts your work and your life. Vision is about much more than just seeing clearly. Whether you're post-concussion or a struggling reader – visual function is a key ingredient to our daily experiences.

Reading/Learning

Did you know that 80% of struggling readers have a problem with how their vision works? Proper vision involves more than just seeing clearly. For example, eye tracking problems can look just like dyslexia or ADHD. This workshop will provide background about the visual functions that are important for reading, writing, and overall attention. It will cover testing, treatment, and how to detect these issues.

Concussion/Head Injury

90% of individuals who have suffered a concussion experience problems with their vision. Headaches, migraines, dizziness, light sensitivity, balance problems, trouble reading, and more, can all be caused by visual dysfunction after a concussion.

Learn about how visual function is affected after concussion/head injury, how to detect visual problems, and what is available for treatment.

“My visit was exceptional. Dr. McCrodan is incredibly knowledgeable and passionate about helping his patients. This was the most comprehensive and helpful eye exam I’ve ever had.”

- Brendan M.

Sports Vision

Your hand-eye is only as good as the speed and accuracy of your depth perception. From lightning-fast and accurate reflexes to great peripheral awareness, there is more to performance vision than meets the eye.

Learn about how vision impacts your performance, how it can be affected after a concussion, and what you can do to improve it.

Senior's Vision

Whether it's preventing falls, maintaining an active lifestyle, or improving quality of life, senior's vision is important. Many problems caused by depth perception are misattributed to 'just aging'. How quickly and accurately your eyes and brain work together is a key part of balance and driving. How well your eyes maintain focus and alignment is key for reading, painting, and focusing on your hobbies.

Learn about how vision matters for seniors, how to detect problems, and what treatment options are available.
